NAMEDATE
SAYING WHAT'S UNSAID: ADDING SPEECH AND THOUGHT BUBBLES TO NEW YORK TIMES PHOTOGRAPHS
Directions: Clip and paste below a photograph from today's New York Times that is related to a particular article and that features at least one person. Based on your reading of the article, draw comics-style speech or thought pubbles on the photograph to communicate something that the person or people in the photo might think or say, pased on information you learned in reading the article.
paste photograph here